Job Application for Student Assistant in IT & Digitalisation

Dear Hiring Manager,

About Me

I am Federico Marra, a Master's student in Computer Science and Engineering at the Technical University of Denmark (DTU). My academic training in Data Security, Software Engineering, and Program Verification has provided me with a solid technical foundation. In addition, my hands-on experience as a Software Engineer at SNAP4 S.r.l. has sharpened my skills in project management, teamwork, and innovative solution development. I have also contributed to projects such as a Diabetes Management Java app—a venture that resonates personally with me as I am diabetic—fueling my passion for digital health innovation.

Why Novo Nordisk?

Novo Nordisk's mission to transform lives through innovative healthcare solutions, especially in the field of diabetes, is both inspiring and personal. As someone living with diabetes, I deeply appreciate your commitment to improving patient outcomes and advancing digital health initiatives. The opportunity to work within the expansive IT & Digitalisation division, alongside over 3000 dedicated professionals, aligns perfectly with my ambition to support cutting-edge digital transformation projects. I am particularly excited about contributing to areas such as data analytics, IT security, and digital innovation that drive both operational excellence and meaningful impact on patient care.

Why Me?

My technical expertise, combined with strong analytical and communication skills, makes me a great fit for a student assistant role in IT & Digitalisation. I have a proven track record in developing detailed reports, crafting strategic presentations, and conducting comprehensive data analyses. My proactive approach and ability to collaborate with diverse stakeholders have been demonstrated in both academic projects and professional settings. I am eager to bring my technical background, personal drive, and passion for digital health to Novo Nordisk, contributing to initiatives that enhance digital processes and ultimately improve the lives of patients worldwide.

Sincerely,

Federico Marra
